Beautiful day and everything great for festival

BY BOB DEMAREE

The day could not have been more perfect for the 19th annual Soup, Stew, Chili and Brew Festival in downtown Madison. Beautiful weather, good food and drink and a lot of happy people supporting local non-profits and businesses.

"It was a beautiful day with great weather, great food and great musicians," said Emilee Roberts, executive director of the Madison Area Chamber of Commerentce which organizes the event. "I heard a lot of positive feedback from everyone involved. I take it as a win."

Soup, Stew, Chili and Brew is traditionally the only Madison festival on Main Street, and Roberts said the day went "incredibly well" for downtown businesses. "That's why we love having it on Main Street."

Roberts said the Chamber will be counting tickets and money

Democrats honor Schnaitter at county headquarters rededication

BY BOB DEMAREE

"Spence was our dad, but he was a Democrat first," said Spencer Mills Schnaitter as he tore off paper revealing a new sign at Jefferson County Democrat Headquarters rededicating the Madison Main Street storefront as the "Spencer J. Schnaitter Jefferson County Democrat Headquarters."

On Friday, Schnaitter family members gathered at Democrat Headquarters, 406 East Main Street, for the special event that included all five of Spence Schnaitter's children — Spencer M. Schnaitter, Suzanne Schnaitter, Jason Schnaitter, Edie Schnaitter Britton and Dwight Schnaitter.

"He would love it, but he would be humble about it," said Britton.

"He never would have allowed us to do it if he were alive," Jason added of his father who died on Jan. 15, 2021, at age 88. "But it's an honor that his family viewed as highly fitting. "He was such an avid supporter" of the Jefferson County Democratic Party, said Britton.

Mike Jones, vice chair for Democrat Congressional District 6 (previously chair for Democrat Congressional District 9 for 23 years), spoke words of his own and shared words from others.

Jones said he had talked earlier in the day with former Congressman Lee Hamilton,

More rescues last weekend at Clifty Falls State Park

BY BOB DEMAREE

Two rescues over the weekend brought the total at Clifty Falls State Park up to 28 rescues this year for Madison Township Fire Department, which Fire Chief Robert Black said is a record.

Rescues occurred both Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday, two adults went night hiking and could not find their way out. On Sunday, a woman chasing after a dog went over a ledge and needed help getting out.

The call for rescue Saturday came at 11 p.m., and 30 rescuers were on the scene. In addition to the night hiking, the two adults also got off the trails for which they were cited. Once rescued, they were driven out through Trails 2 and 8.

Black emphasized all trails are closed at dusk, which is 30 minutes before sunset. He said it's especially important in that night time rescues are the most challenging and present the greatest danger to rescue personnel.

On Sunday at 5:15 p.m., a report was received about the need for a rescue off Trail 7 near Big Clifty. Black said a woman had taken a dog off the leash for a photo opportunity, but the dog ran away and jumped off the bluff, and when the woman ran after the dog, she went over and down from the bluff, resulting in a sprained ankle. Rescuers carried her out in a Stokes basket in a rescue that took approximately 3-1/2 hours.

Black commended the work of the rescue team. "It went flawlessly," he said, noting that it was "as quick and as safe as it could be. I can't say enough about the job that everyone did."

In addition to the Madison Township Fire Department, the two rescue efforts also included Rykers' Ridge Fire Department, Clifty 6 Fire and Rescue, Hanover Township Fire Department, Dupont Fire Department, Jefferson County Sheriff's Department, Clifty Falls State Park managers and Indiana Conservation officers, along with King's Daughters' Hospital Emergency Medical Service.

For the year, Madison Township Fire Department has had 188 calls, which is more than the total for all of 2020 when there were 155 calls.

State Police investigating shooting death of Osgood man

BY COURIER STAFF

Indiana State Police detectives began investigating an officer involved shooting that occurred Sunday in northern Ripley County that resulted in the death of an Osgood man.

On Sunday morning, the Ripley County Sheriff's Department received a 9-1-1 call indicating there was a domestic disturbance at a residence located at 8052 East County Road 900 North, near Sunman. Further information was obtained that a gun was involved in the incident and that a male, identified as Joshua Ebinger, 37, Osgood, was violating a protection order that the female had in place against him.

Two Ripley County deputies, a trooper with the Indiana State Police-Versailles Post, and a Versailles police officer responded to the residence. Upon arriving at the scene, the adult female exited the home and officers moved her to a safe location. Ebinger then exited the home while holding a handgun. The officers gave Ebinger numerous commands to drop the gun. Ebinger then pointed the gun at the officers. The trooper and one of the deputies fired their weapons at him. Ebinger was struck by at least one of the rounds.

The officers immediately provided medical care to Ebinger and called for EMS to come to the scene. Ebinger was soon pronounced deceased at the scene by the Ripley County Coroners Office. No officers were injured.

An autopsy is scheduled to be performed soon in Hamilton County, Ohio. The investigation is ongoing. The officers names are not being released at this time. Per normal procedures, both officers have been placed on administrative leave while the investigation is ongoing.

In Gallatin County, Kentucky State Police Post 5 is investigating a shooting that took place on South Fork Road on Saturday.

The preliminary investigation reveals that Gallatin County Sheriff's Office was notified of an altercation involving Joshua C. Sayler, 30, of Verona, Kentucky, and Taylor M. Barnett, 29, of Verona, Kentucky. During the investigation, it was determined that Barnett shot Sayler multiple times while they were in an altercation.

Sayler was taken by Gallatin County EMS to the University of Cincinnati Hospital in Ohio where he is currently in stable condition.

The investigation is ongoing by Post 5 Detectives, who were assisted at the scene by Post 5 Troopers, Gallatin County Sheriff's Office, Warsaw Police Department, Gallatin County EMS and Verona EMS.

Kentucky General Fund receipts rise in September, bolstered by settlement

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

FRANKFORT — Kentucky's tax collections surged again in September and were further bolstered by revenue from a legal settlement with an internet gambling site, Gov. Andy Beshear's administration said Monday.

State General Fund receipts shot up 35% last month, which included $225 million from the settlement with Flutter Entertainment, parent company of PokerStars, state Budget Director John Hicks said. The settlement ended a long-running lawsuit filed by the state to stop unregulated and untaxed offshore gambling operations that were operating in Kentucky, the governor's office said recently.

Excluding the settlement, revenues rose 14.8% compared to the same month a year ago, Hicks said.

Touting the state's strong showing on social media, Beshear said "we continue to see our economy surge thanks to strong fiscal management by my administration."

Lawmakers will convene in January for a legislative session to be highlighted by work on the next state budget. The General Fund pays for most state services.

Through the first quarter of the current fiscal year, the General Fund has grown 20%, or 12.1% when adjusted for the settlement, the state said.

Corporate income tax receipts last month were the largest amount collected in one month in the last 15 years, reflecting strong corporate profits, Hicks said. Sales tax revenues grew 10.8% in September and have increased 9.9% in the first three months of the fiscal year.

Trial begins for former UK student in child's death

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEXINGTON — A trial is beginning this week for a former University of Kentucky student charged in the death of a 4-year-old child killed in a DUI crash.

The child, Marco Shemwell, was crossing a street outside a Kentucky football game in Lexington when he was struck and killed.

The reckless homicide trial for Jacob Heil, 21, was set to begin Monday in Fayette County Circuit Court, the Lexington Herald-Leader reported. Heil was also charged with driving under the influence for the 2018 crash. Heil, who was 18 at the time of the crash, had a blood-alcohol level of 0.051, according to court records. The legal limit for those under 21 is .02.

Heil told police he drank two beers and had just left tailgating when the crash happened.

Heil's fraternity, Alpha Tau Omega, was suspended and eventually dissolved after the crash.

Prosecutors have filed a court motion asking the judge to allow Marco's mother, Liz Shemwell, to remain in the courtroom during the trial even though she will testify as a witness.

Is the problem physical or mental?

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I'm struggling with a situation I can no longer handle. My husband has a long history of periodically "falling ill" with mystery illnesses the doctors treat as minor everyday issues, but which inevitably result in his being unable to function. He is not able to work, help with chores, attend family functions or care for our kid. It's most likely to happen when a commitment is coming up, such as the holidays, a work deadline or issues with my own chronic pain from stage 4 endometriosis.

We've adjusted our lives to accommodate this. First, he was a contract worker instead of 9-5; then, he was a stay-at-home dad. It's been stressful to constantly have to carry all the weight, but he's otherwise a lovely, funny, caring and supportive man. And when he's well, things are wonderful.

Things came to a head during the pandemic. I needed emergency surgery, and within minutes of hearing that a date was set, he announced he had a severe injury and basically checked out. It resulted in my caring almost entirely for myself during a very rough recovery.

After this, my mother-in-law approached me because she had come to believe his health issues were more psychological than physical. I agreed, and we started planning for an intervention.

Cue major mystery health issue — one so severe he's basically bedridden and can only eat and perform basic functions through the constant consumption of various types of medical marijuana. This episode is so severe that doctors have spent the last several months testing him for many very scary conditions. It's been terrifying and exhausting.

The doctors think he has a minor condition causing a lot of pain, but one that the doctors can't seem to find a cause or treatment for. We all suspect that at least some of his doctors no longer take him seriously. I know from my own medical experience that doctors can minimize chronic pain, but you need to be a strong and persistent self-advocate or you are unlikely to get effective treatment.

I've started pushing hard for a diagnosis and treatment plan. Ultimately, it's difficult to know whether I should be asking for a psychological evaluation instead of pushing so hard for a treatment plan.

I'm exhausted from working full time, caring for our son when he's not in school, handling both of our medical issues, and the general day-to-day. It's affecting my own health and career. I don't trust my decision-making on this. I'm too emotional and tired. — Burnt Out

Dear Burnt Out: Ask yourself, what type of emotional and physical help would take off some of the pressure, and then act on that. Sometimes, chronic pain stems from unresolved anger. "The MindBody Prescription: Healing the Body, Healing the Pain" by Dr. John Sarno is a book that I would highly recommend for both of you.

If your husband is not interested, give it to yourself as a gift. Be selfish, at least until you feel filled up and can figure out how best to move forward. Even if his physical pain stems from the mind, he is clearly in emotional pain and needs help.

Teaching kids to feel it all

Dear Annie: I enjoy reading your column in the Indianapolis Star. Today, I read the column, "How Do I Tell My Kids Our Dog Died?" I believe you were right on target when you wrote that one should avoid saying that the pets just went to sleep. After that suggestion, though, I think your answer fits into a narrow theological belief.

My grandmother used to say that "heaven and hell are here on earth." That is to say, she believed, in a sense, that we make our own heaven or hell in this life, and there is no hereafter. I, too, believe that. Not all of your readers believe in heaven or hell or any afterlife.

Others do believe in heaven and hell, but not for animals. In any case, a theology where animals and people are happily reunited after death is not inclusive to all readers. In our family, if I were to say that, I would be lying. When our pets die, we are sad. We bury them in the backyard. Being sad helps us in life, because it is important for us to experience and recognize all emotions.

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

I would suggest that "Explaining to Our Children" tell their children that we are very sad, and that that is OK; that animals, and even people, all die, and we are sad about that. And beyond that, we all can teach our children about our religious or secular beliefs. — A Loyal Reader

Dear Loyal Reader: Thank you so much for your letter and perspective. I love the idea of encouraging children to feel their feelings, to recognize what feeling they are feeling, so that they can process any type of loss. If more adults learned how to do that as children, we would have a calmer society.

Dear Annie: This is in response to "Explaining to Our Children," who wondered how to tell their young children about the death of their dog. My husband and I had a wonderful golden retriever before having children. Then we had two daughters. When the children were in elementary school, they kept asking for a cat. We were not "cat people."

We told the girls a fib — that we couldn't have a cat because we had a dog. That seemed to suffice. When the dog was 14, he became quite ill and frail, and we had to make the decision to put him down. We were devastated and worried about how the girls would respond. Their response: "We don't have a dog anymore; can we get a cat now?" Children are very resilient. More so than adults. — Cats and Dogs

Dear Cats and Dogs: Losing a pet is difficult for any of us at any age. You are correct that adults hurt as well, and perhaps even more than children. So, did you get a cat?

Madison awarded new historic marker

BY MARK CAMPBELL

Late last week the City of Madison received confirmation that another site in the downtown historic district has been slated to receive an Indiana State Historical Marker.

The marker will be placed at the former Eagle Cotton Mill site — now repurposed and opened earlier this year as the 85-room Fairfield Inn & Suites at 108 St. Michael's Avenue — to celebrate the female workforce at the factory that opened in 1884.

Brooke Peach, the city's historic preservationist, said applications this year focused on under-represented groups in Indiana history and the fact that more than 75% of the Cotton Mill's workforce was made up by women qualified the site as one of 34 sites designated for recognition this year.

The Cotton Mill historic marker will be the 10th in Madison and 14th in Jefferson County.

Although designated last week, the marker will not be erected until sometime next year. Peach, who drafted Madison's application, said the date for unveiling the marker has tentatively been scheduled for May 2022.

The Indiana State Historical Marker Program, administered by the Indiana Historical Bureau, a division of the Indiana State Library, began in 1946 and recognizes a more than 500 sites, individuals and organizations in the state.

SOUP

this week, but all indications are that it was the best crowd ever. She said local musician Rusty Bladen, a longtime performer at the event, called it "a record crowd" from his perspective.

For the cooks at the Samuel Woodfill American Legion Post No. 9 Auxiliary, it could not have been a better day. The auxiliary won awards for best decorated booth along with best soup and third place for best stew.

"I think we did exceptionally well" in not only winning prizes, but also with the successful sales during the event, Gina Copeland, president of the Auxiliary, said. "You can't beat that."

All proceeds from the day's sales by the Auxiliary go back to the community through their programs for veterans in which they give presents to veterans in nursing homes at Christmas, along with "Adopt a Veteran Family".

"Our heart and soul is with the veterans, but we also donate to the community," said Copeland. "If there is some organization in the community that needs help, we're helping there too."

Copeland credited LaVerne Copeland, the organization's financial officer, for the winning fall decorations on the booth. The Auxiliary, participating for just the second time in the event's history, received first place for its fisherman's stew and third place for a taco soup.

Autumn Trace Senior Communities was winner of the best soup with its Italian sausage white bean soup. Autumn Trace, which opened in Madison in the summer of 2020, was participating in the event for the first time.

Other soups were tested by Autumn Trace employees to decide which to submit to judges, and the Italian sausage white bean soup, a recipe created by Callie Keeton, was their favorite. As it turned out, it was the favorite of the judges. Keeton said they also got compliments on the soup from customers. "We had one guy come back four times, and each time he asked for a large bowl," she said.

Overall, Keeton said it was a "fun day" for the Autumn Trace Soup, Stew, Chili and Brew team. "We're excited to be here and participating."

The Troublemakers, a family operation, was winner for best chili. Mark Darnold said the Troublemakers booth was actually a family effort by the Darnold and Obendorf families in the area with the "troublemakers" name in jest — something he said people would jokingly be refered as back when he was in school.

Darnold, who has a farm in northeastern Jefferson County in Shelby Township, said the family has been participating in Soup, Stew, Chili and Brew for seven years, each year using the same recipe that includes onions and two types of peppers. Darnold said he tweaked the recipe a couple of years ago, and "that seemed to have paid off."

Darnold also served tomato basil soup at the family booth along with optional grilled cheese with or without bacon. He said they also have fried biscuits with cinnamon sugar and a side of apple butter, which Darnold thinks if a dessert category is ever added, they might have a chance at an award there.

The winner for best brew was Main Street business Gallery 115, which won for Hot Cinnamon Spice Apple Cider. Owner Peggy Phagan said it's a combination of hot cinnamon spice mixed into the apple cider.

Phagan said Gallery 115 has participated in Soup, Stew, Chili and Brew every year since opening Gallery 115 on East Main Street in April of 2012, but it's the first time for receiving an award. "I had someone follow me from the awards, and tell me he wanted to try the apple cider. He told me, 'The judges were right, it was the best', and then asked for a second cup."

Awards were also given for second and third place in each category. In soups, River Valley Community Church was second with its loaded potato soup and American Legion Auxiliary was third with taco soup. In stews, North Madison Fire Company No. 5 was second with its goulash stew and Jefferson County Democratic Party was third with its Hoosier goulash stew. In chili, the Madison Community Players was second with its spicy chili and Steinhardt Heating and Cooling was third with its chili.

HONOR

who had fond memories of Schnaitter. "In the 34 years I served in Congress, I met a lot of personalities but I only met one Spence Schnaitter," Jones said Hamilton had told him.

Jones read a letter from Mike Schmuhl, chairman of the Indiana Democratic Party, who characterized Schnaitter as being "dedicated to service and rooted in Hoosier values"; that through his work in the state legislature that Schnaitter "changed the trajectory of Indiana." And Schmuhl also wrote Schnaitter had "legacy and passion for equity that will live on for generations."

Schnaitter was elected to five, two-year terms as a Democratic member of the Indiana House of Representatives. While serving in the state legislature, Schnaitter principally served on the House Ways and Means Committee and was Chairman in 1975-1976. During his time there he focused on securing funding for local education, and supported legislation for the creation of Ivy Tech Community College throughout Indiana.

Jones said Schnaitter was always a strong advocate for Madison and Jefferson County. "No matter where he went, he was an advocate for this city and county," he said. He noted one of his most noted achievements was work on legislation that formed the Madison Port Authority, which saved the short line rail line between Madison and North Vernon.

Jefferson County Democratic Party chairman John Hutchinson said he was 10 years old in 1950 when he first became aware of Schnaitter, a member of the Cubs' basketball team that won the state championship that year. Many years later, Hutchinson got to know Schnaitter at Trinity United Methodist Church. At one church function, they happened to sit at the same table, and Hutchinson noted it seemed they were at the "Democrat table." Hutchinson said they had great discussions in which they felt they solved problems of the world while also talking about basketball. "All-in-all, it was wonderful and a special time" to have spent it with Schnaitter.

Madison turns tables on Silver Creek

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

SCOTTSBURG — For the second-straight match, Madison avenged a loss from earlier in the season and this time, it netted the Cubs a sectional soccer championship.

Madison scored two goals in less than a minute to finish off a dominating performance and defeat Silver Creek 2-0 at Scottsburg High School on Saturday afternoon.

The Cubs had lost to Creek 1-0 earlier in the season but much like a semifinal win over North Harrison, Madison used that earlier setback as motivation. The Cubs spent the majority of the game on the Dragons' side of the ball and when the final horn sounded, the team rushed the field living the joy of finally breaking through.

"It has been a roller coaster all year for us. We've had some big ups and some big downs," Madison coach Kyle Bipes said. "They started playing well at the right time and I told them that if we keep playing like this, we're gonna get a sectional trophy and they did it today. It's an awesome feeling, the boys are excited."

Madison (9-8-1) held a 16-4 advantage in shots — including 7-1 on goal — but it wasn't until the second half when they finally broke through.

The Cubs scored what turned out to be the winning goal in the 57th minute when Ramon Alvarado Paz streaked down the right sideline and sent a perfect cross into the box where Carter Schutte received it and fired it into the net. But the celebration was muted when Madison's Henry Grote was issued a red card for language.

Grote, who had received a yellow card earlier in the game and despite the protestations from the Madison sideline — including another player who took the blame for the language — Grote was sent off and the Cubs were forced to play the rest of the game a man down.

Despite that setback, Madison never blinked. Less than a minute after the goal, the Cubs scored again, this time when Harrison Hall ripped through the Creek defense and beat the Dragon keeper with a long, well-placed shot to put Madison ahead 2-0. That celebration also ended in a card when Hall was given a yellow for taking off his shirt as he ran around the field.

"I don't think the refs liked us very much today," said Bipes,

Southwestern stuns South Ripley to win title

BY LAUREN HANEY

OSGOOD — Southwestern came out hot to seize an early lead and made it hold up to knock off undefeated and 12th-ranked South Ripley 3-2 in the championship game of the Class A Boys Soccer Sectional at Jac-Cen-Del on Saturday.

Peyton Cloud scored back-to-back goals early in the first half with assists from Joe Drossart and Bryce Hatton to stake Southwestern to a 2-0 lead. The Rebels not only excelled offensively, but Rebel goalie William Stockdale's saves and the nearly impenetrable defense allowed only one goal by the Raiders.

Hatton then scored a goal of his own — off an assist by Cloud — to push Southwestern ahead 3-1 at halftime.

"We came into this game perceived as underdogs but we knew we had a strong team and we could match toe to toe with them," Southwestern coach Seth Shields said. "They had two great players, Ben Miller and Zach Gentile, and we knew what they were going to do and we executed."

Southwestern was unable to add onto its lead in the second half while South Ripley got a goal by Gentile, the 100th of his career, to close the gap to one. But the Rebel defense held the rest of the game to seal the upset win.

"We got kind of gassed there towards the end but we went up quick 2-0. We had a couple other missed opportunities," Shields said. "We have two cross country runners, Brandon Smith and Joe Drossart, that came in from cross country and gave us some valuable minutes. We had some good stops by our keeper, William. We played our game and we played hard. We knew coming into it that if we did that then we were winning this game."

The win gives Southwestern its first sectional championship since 2016 and the fourth in school history. The Rebels, now 9-9 on the season, will host third-ranked Providence in the regional semifinals on Thursday in a game that will be played at Scottsburg High School.

"We need to build onto what we've already established. We just have to play some better through balls, maybe some better touch give and goes but other than that, we have a strong defense and a strong offense," Shields said. "In the midst of this whole sectional we've done a great job of controlling the middle. I always tell my players that if you can control the middle then you can control the game, and ultimately you win the game. Hopefully, we can work on that in practice a little bit more and be ready for Thursday."

Southwestern's boys soccer team celebrates after knocking off 12th-ranked South Ripley in the sectional championship on Saturday.

Pacer freshman Rogers runs to cross country sectional title

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Switzerland County freshman Claire Rogers won her first sectional championship and all four local teams qualified for the regional after strong performances in the IHSAA Cross Country Sectional at Hardy Lake on Saturday.

Rogers, who won the Ohio River Valley Conference championship a week earlier, ran away from the field and was never challenged as she posted the easy win. Her winning time of 20:10.7 was nearly nine seconds faster than runner-up Jessica McCoy of Charlestown (20:19.2) and 35 seconds ahead of defending champion Calli Alderman of Shawe, who crossed in 20:45.3.

Switzerland County finished second as a team with 79 points, 12 points behind winner Charlestown. Madison, which won the crown last year, finished sixth with 105 points and did not qualify for the regional but had three runners, Ava Spencer, Isabel Wilber and Cadence Traylor, advance as individuals. Southwestern's Kirsten Geary qualified for the regional as well.

On the boys side, Austin and Jennings County staged a duel that saw Austin come out on top 24-31 to win the sectional crown. Madison (118 points), Southwestern (144) and Switzerland County (157) each earned regional berths. Shawe's Sam Fewell and Wyatt Lundergan both punched their ticket to the regional as individuals.

"This marks the first time since 2014 the boys have had a full team advance. Only four other boys teams have placed 3rd at sectionals in the history of our program," Madison boys coach Kris Sandlin said. "This was a sweet moment for the boys after missing out last year by five points. This was a total team effort."

Other times for the Switzerland County girls were: Alisha Detmer, 21st, 23:11.3; Amber Detmer, 24th, 23:30.7; Carlee Boggs, 25th, 23:55.1; Ashlyn Covington, 27th, 23:58.4; Gracie White, 31st, 25:18.7; Brianna Stow, 50th, 34:15.7.

Times and finishes for Madison's girls were: Spencer, 11th, 21:57.3; Wilber, 19th, 23:00.0; Traylor, 22nd, 23:12.7; Madalyn Flowers, 36th, 27:01.9; Adison Nott, 41st, 27:56.5.

Times and finishes for Southwestern's girls were: Geary, 23rd, 23:14.4; Patricia Smith, 34th, 25:39.7; and Fabiana Orioli, 40th, 27:43.9.

Shawe's Katie Jacobs placed 54th in 36:41.9.

Times and finishes for the Madison boys were: Logan Ferris, 17th, 19:04.8; Colton Copeland, 24th, 19:27.5; Neel Mistry, 28th, 19:43.8; Leighton

Madison offense stalls in 41-6 loss at Bedford

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

BEDFORD — Madison's high-powered offense was held to just 68 yards in a 41-6 loss at Bedford North Lawrence on Friday night.

The Cubs, who came into the game averaging more than 20 points per contest, trailed only 14-6 late in the second half. But BNL dominated the second half and rolled to the easy win.

For Madison coach Leroy Wilson, the final result was disappointing, not because they lost, but because the Cubs forgot how good they can be.

"I really don't like this word but the potential, but that's what we have and I wish they could see it," Wilson said. "I wish they could see it because we have glimpses on offense, we have glimpses on defense, we have glimpses on special teams and we look really, really good. And then all of a sudden, one brain fart and the drive's done. That's what I saw tonight. We need that mentality of getting into the end zone and we're still working on that."

Madison (3-5) put together one good drive which resulted in a 9-yard touchdown pass from Kaden Oliver to Drew Hayden, but could do nothing the rest of the game. Oliver was limited to 91 yards passing on 10-of-24 while the Cubs were in negative numbers on the ground for the second-straight week, rushing for minus-23 for 68 total yards.

In the face of those numbers, it was surprising that Madison was in the game at all. The Stars (4-4) held a 21-6 lead at halftime, but then scored three more touchdowns over the final 24 minutes to pull away for the win.

Watching his offense struggle to move the ball was the most difficult thing for Wilson, who knows that his team will need to get that part straightened out with only one week left before the sectional.

"We are on pace with last year's offense but these guys don't see it, and when you have a young offense that's learning and you get into those tough situations, it can be tough," Wilson said. "That's on us as coaches to figure it out and get these guys back on track. We've got to refocus on Monday and get ready for Seymour."

Junior all-state candidate Colin Yancey caught five passes for 52 yards to lead the Cubs while Hayden had three catches for 34 yards and the touchdown. Taytum Anderson had 22 yards on 10 rushing attempts.

Bedford had 366 total yards, led by quarterback Memphis Louden who was 14-for-23 passing for 161 yards and four touchdowns. Dylan Nikirk caught two passes for 58 yards and Zane Anderson rushed 12 times for 78 yards.

Madison returns home for its final regular season game on Friday when the Cubs host Seymour. Madison will then open the sectional tournament the following week against South Dearborn.

Wilson said it's crucial that the Cubs get the taste of the last two losses out of their mouths before the tournament.

"This loss cannot loom over us and we cannot carry it over into the final week of the season," Wilson said. "We've been hot and cold but this is the first time we've lost two in a row. All season we've bounced back each week. And so now, that's gonna be the test. This week that's gonna be the challenge. I fully believe and I fully trust these guys are going to do that."

Carroll dominates early in 48-6 blowout over Trimble

BY TIM HENDRICK
CARROLTON NEWS-DEMOCRAT

Carroll County bounced back from a 24-7 loss to Walton-Verona on Oct. 1 to manhandle Trimble County Friday night 48-6 at home in football.

Carroll (4-4) took advantage of several Trimble miscues to open up a 28-0 lead at the half. Carroll held Trimble on its first possession then proceeded to march down the field to score on an 18-yard touchdown run by Harrison Felts at the 6-minute mark.

Trimble fumbled the ensuing kickoff with Carroll recovering at the Trimble 33-yard line. Four plays later Felts scored his second touchdown of the quarter as the Panthers led 14-0.

Carroll then marched the ball down the field and scored on a Zayn Satchwell 10-yard run for its next score, and Jakob Ulery scored on a two-point conversion after a bad snap to push the lead to 22-0 with 2:44 left in the second quarter.

A bad snap set up Carroll's next touchdown. After taking over on the Trimble two, junior Evan Searcy scored his first high school varsity touchdown to put the Panthers ahead 24-0 with 1:02 left in the quarter.

In the second half Vaught scored on a 20-yard run, Felted scored his third touchdown on a 68-yard run and Searcy added his second touchdown from a yard out.

"Although the score doesn't show it, this is a much improved Trimble team," said Carroll head coach Justin Franklin, a former head coach at Trimble County. "A couple of turnovers that gave us short fields, it could have been a closer game."

Tim Hendrick/News-Democrat

Carroll County's Harrison Felts (22) celebrates as he runs into the end zone during the Panthers' win over Trimble County on Friday.

The lone offensive highlight for Trimble was a 50-yard touchdown pass by James Thomas Wilcoxson late in the third quarter.

"I think we had a fall break hangover," Trimble head coach J.P. Dale said. "The kids made a bigger game out of it than it was. They put too much pressure on themselves. They were trying to do right by me, but it was just our next game.

"I feel the scoreboard was indicative of how we played. We still have to learn how to win, to make the plays to win."

Carroll travels to Owen County next Friday and Trimble hosts Gallatin for Trimble's homecoming.

Lady Pacers beat Milan, 6-0, for long-awaited 1st sectional crown

BY JORDAN BEAR

RISING SUN — Switzerland County has tried for four, long, frustrating, years to bring home a girls soccer sectional championship but each time the Pacers were stopped by Oldenburg Academy.

But after dispatching the Twisters in Thursday night's semifinals, 14th-ranked Switzerland finally achieved its ultimate goal by whipping Milan 6-0 to win the Class A Sectional Championship at Rising Sun on Saturday.

Not only is it the first sectional championship for Switzerland County soccer — boys or girls — it's the first time a girls soccer team from the Ohio River Valley Conference has won a sectional championship.

"I'm very excited. It's been well-deserved for many years now," Switzerland County coach Courtney Dayadharum said. "The girls have been playing together since they were three years old in Lollipop and they are so deserving to this."

As in the semifinal win over No. 13 Oldenburg, the Lady Pacers struck early in the first half when Kenzie Taylor collected a pass from Halle Archer and fired it into the back of the net to give Switzerland an early 1-0 lead.

Taylor wasn't done though and she put in her second goal of the game in the 31st minute to give the Pacers a 2-0 lead heading into halftime.

The second half was then complete domination by Switzerland, which put in two quick goals in the first 20 minutes, one by Halle Archer and the other by Taylor to cap off her hat trick.

"Just great passes from teammates and great effort. I put myself in good position but they're the ones who pass it and give me the chance," Taylor said. "I'm so proud to be a Pacer. This community is amazing. They're an amazing support system and they always show out. I'm so proud of everyone here."

Senior Kayley Jones found the back of the net in the 63rd minute off an assist from Taylor and senior Raylinn Kappes convert a penalty kick late in the game to cap the scoring.

In then end Switzerland completely dominated a team that had played them to two consecutive 2-2 draws in the regular season. The Pacers outshot Milan 18-1 overall, including six on goal, and had 10 corner kick opportunities.

As a starter the past four years, Kappes has had a front-row seat to frustrating ends to the season. She said the team was overdue for Saturday's sectional breakthrough.

"I was honestly just in shock when it happened. I couldn't believe it at first but then it just all sunk in and it's just an incredible feeling," Kappes said. "I love these girls so much. They've made such an impact on the team, especially the freshmen. They're amazing, this team is amazing, I'm genuinely just on top of the world right now."

Freshman Claire Rogers, another starter for the Pacers, provided an interesting footnote to the game as a double champion. Rogers started her Saturday by winning the individual cross country sectional championship at Hardy Lake and ended it with her second sectional title of the day by helping the soccer team win the sectional championship.

Switzerland County, now 13-1-2 on the season, heads to the regional round where it will host No. 9 Providence (12-5-1) on Wednesday in a 6 p.m. semifinal.

"We know Providence very well. They're very skilled, they pass the ball extremely well, and they have great shooters up front," Dayadharum said. "We're excited to host and as everyone can say with the crowd at this game, we're a soccer community and we're ready to pack the stands and give it our best."

Madison girls in sudden death shootout

BY LAUREN HANEY

Madison's girls gave their all before falling in a sudden death shootout to 11th-ranked Silver Creek in the championship game of the Class 2A Girls Soccer Sectional at Madison on Saturday night.

After a 4-0 loss to Silver Creek earlier in the season, the Lady Cubs took the pitch ready to show the improvement they've made throughout the season. Madison shined defensively, keeping Silver Creek from scoring throughout.

After a scoreless regulation and overtime, the teams lined up for penalty kicks. After a missed goal by the Cubs and a blocked goal for the Dragons, Marin Kernan, Iyana Phelps and Carla Gaspar scored three consecutive penalty kicks for Madison only to be matched by Silver Creek to remain deadlocked and put the game into sudden death. Madison penalty kick by Casey Dyer was blocked by goalie Emma Wilcoxson before Silver Creek's Carley Troutman ended the marathon, 1-0.

"They have a lot of really skilled players and they returned a lot from their semistate team last year. They're a very respected team and we went in knowing they were a good team," Madison senior Taylor Lynch said. "We've played a lot of ranked and tough opponents this year as well. A lot of the opponents that Silver Creek played and maybe had a closer score aligned with. We went in and we knew a lot of the players and their skill sets and we did the best we could to control that and counter when we could. Unfortunately, none of those counter opportunities we capitalized on. I'm still proud of our team."

Despite this loss, the Cubs recognize the growth they've made this year, and are proud of the performance against the Dragons.

"We ended 94 minutes of soccer 0-0. Last year we played them and lost 6-0 and then all the years before that they just pound us, pound us, pound us," said junior Molly Armbrecht. "I couldn't be prouder. This team is awesome. Nobody will realize that at the end of the day but us. We know that. We are growing as a program and that's proof of it."

The Lady Cubs (9-7-3) are planning to use this season's success to motivate them for next year, and are excited for the upcoming seasons.

"I think that this result, getting to the championship this year, will gain a lot of respect for the women's program that we haven't had in the past," said Ambrecht. "Hopefully our numbers will grow and our motivation because we have a goal to work towards now. We were able to get this far so maybe next year we'll be able to get even further."

Southwestern girls soccer ousted by No. 9 Providence

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Southwestern girls soccer saw its season come to an end with a 9-0 loss to ninth-ranked Providence in the IHSAA Class A Sectional Championship game at Christian Academy of Indiana on Saturday.

"We played especially well the first 15 minutes. Several things happened after that but we then looked to the bright side and enjoyed playing together," Southwestern coach Nancy Totten said. "The year has brought quarantines, concussions, and injuries but also great fun, learning, and friendships. It has been a special year."

Providence (12-5-1) will take on No. 14 Switzerland County in the regional semifinals in Vevay on Wednesday.

Southwestern ends the season with a 4-11 record.

TABLES

whose team received five total cards in the game. "(The team) were really upset ... it was a goal celebration, it wasn't directed at anybody. That's just tough but what can I say, we fought through it, we played hard for 80 minutes and came away with a sectional championship."

With the way the defense was playing, the 2-0 lead was insurmountable and Madison easily ran out the clock. Silver Creek did not attempt a shot in the second half and in three sectional games, the Cubs allowed only 12 shots total.

"This defense has always been the strong point for this team and it showed tonight," Bipes said. "I always knew we were gonna have a really good defense and the question was whether we could score or not, and I think we answered that the last few games."

Madison will get a chance to host the regional semifinals on Thursday and welcome seventh-ranked Heritage Hills (17-1) to town in the first-ever meeting between the two schools. The winner takes on either eighth-ranked Gibson Southern or West Vigo at Washington on Saturday in the regional championship.
